

International power system transmission open access experience

J.I. Pérez Arriaga; H. Rudnick; W.O. Stadlin

Abstract-

Power system transmission open access (TOA) is continuing to change the traditional concepts and approaches to providing electric service in many nations. TOA is discussed within the context of regulated cost-of-service markets and fully competitive markets. TOA format, associated implementation issues, and international experiences are also presented

Index Terms-

Due to copyright restriction we cannot distribute this content on the web. However, clicking on the next link, authors will be able to distribute to you the full version of the paper:

Request full paper to the authors

If you institution has a electronic subscription to IEEE Transactions on Power Systems, you can download the paper from the journal website:

Access to the Journal website

Citation:

Pérez-Arriaga, I.J.; Rudnick, H.; Stadlin, W.O. "International power system transmission open access experience", IEEE Transactions on Power Systems, vol.10, no.1, pp.554-564, February, 1995.